Hello, Morgan,

I am a double cousin of yours, or so Mary Gilmore tells me. My name is Janet Elaine (Howell) Weasner. My mother was Denzle Gertrude (Lorenz) Howell. My maternal grandmother was Susannah Otilla (Eilar) Lorenz. 11844 11830

I was born in Muncie, Indiana, May 30, 1938, at Ball Hospital. Currently, I live in the state of Washington with my husband, Paul Dean Weasner. My address is: 921 Pershing Ave., A101, Bremerton WA 98312-12468. My phone number is (360) 479-1318. 46397

My sister, Betty Carolyn (Howell) Sutter was born there on October 23, 1935. She currently lives in Fort Wayne, Indiana. My brother, Ralph Edward Howell, was born May 17, 1942, at Ball Hospital. He currently resides in Fort Wayne also. 46398 H-46399 46400

I lived in Muncie during my pre-school years. Later my folks moved to Fort Wayne where I had my schooling. I met my husband at Indiana University, Bloomington, in 1957 and we were married in Fort Wayne on August 25, 1957. He was born and raised in Seymour, Indiana.

We have two adopted children, Jeffrey Dean and Jennifer Jean. They are 36 and 32 years old. Jeff has never married and lives in Bremerton. Jenny is married to Steven Jay Kraupa and lives just outside of Lyons, Oregon. They have four children: Travis, Justin, Joshua, and Brittany. 46401 46402 1999 36 1963-1967 1989-91-93-96

We got a new iMac computer last month and have the genealogy software "Family Tree Maker". We are planning on developing as much of my genealogy on both the Howell and Lorenz side as we can. We'll be happy to pass on anything we find.

My mother is buried in Muncie, Indiana. Her parents are buried in Arcadia, Indiana. As a child, I remember going to Waltz reunions. I'm not certain how that ties in to my maternal grandmother. The minute I showed up at these reunions, some one would say to me, "I know who your grandmother is because you have her nose." They would go on to name my grandmother. To this day, I still look like her.

It is nice to talk to a member of my family. Please let me know if I can answer any questions for you. I am not as knowledgeable about the family as Mary Gilmore.

Tell us about yourself, Morgan. Where were you born and raised?

Your double cousin, Janet Weasner

EZRA ILER is a respected citizen of Anderson, Ind., and a veteran of the great Civil war, and is of sturdy German stock.

John Iler, his grandfather, was a native of Germany, who came to America. He took part in the War of 1812, and was a participant in the battle of Bladensburg. He married Mary J. Fogle, in Maryland, and they both died near Woodsboro, that State, where Mr. Iler had followed distilling. They had children: Conrad, Jacob, Joseph, John, Julia and Mariah.

John Iler (2), son of John, was born Nov. 6, 1806, in Frederick county, Md., and there he received a common school education and followed shoemaking. When a young man he went to Ohio and married Elizabeth Bantz, born in Frederick county, Md., daughter of John and Elizabeth Bantz. John Bantz was a soldier in the War of 1812. He was a weaver by trade, and at an early day removed to Ohio as a pioneer, settling in Preble county, where he cleared up 140 acres of land from the heavy timber. Elizabeth, when a girl of fourteen years of age, was a witness of the battle of Bladensburg. John Iler and wife were members of the Lutheran Church. In his political opinions Mr. Iler was a stanch Democrat. He and his wife were typical Ohio pioneers, and were highly respected in their community, where Mr. Iler died aged sixty-six years, Mrs. Iler surviving him some time, and dying aged eighty-eight years. Their children were: Joshua, John, Ezra, Gideon and Henry.

Ezra Iler, son of John and Elizabeth, was born Jan. 23, 1836, on the old homestead in Preble county, Ohio. He was brought up on the homestead, and received the usual pioneer education, most of his book knowledge being acquired at home. In June, 1862, at the age of twenty-six years, he enlisted, in Cincinnati, Ohio, as a private in Capt. Koontz's Company G, 81st O. V. I., to serve three years or during the war. On June 20, 1879, Mr. Iler was married at Noblesville, to Adelia Kaufman, born Sept. 25, 1838, in Berks county, Pa., daughter of Valentine and Catherine (Wagner) Kaufman. Mrs. Iler was brought by her parents to Wayne county, Ind., in 1840. Valentine Kaufman was born in Berks county, Pa., of German descent, and settled as a pioneer in Wayne county, where he ran a potter's shop for manufacturing earthenware, which latter was his trade. He was a respected citizen and died on his farm in Wayne county, at a ripe old age. His children who lived to mature years were: Jacob, Joseph, Valentine, Sophia, Adelia, Hannah and Mary.

Ezra Iler and his wife, after marriage, settled on the farm in Wayne county, where they lived twelve years, afterward removing to Madison county, and buying land in LaFayette township. Here they remained fourteen years, and in 1890 located in Anderson, where Mr. Iler was engaged in the tin plate works for eight years, since which time he has been engaged in carpenter work. He learned this trade when he was young, when all of the timber had to be hewed out by hand, with a broad-ax, and he became an adept in hewing to the line. He has followed carpentry at different times all of his life, and in his day has built many barns in this section and throughout the county.

Mr. and Mrs. Iler are the parents of these children: Frank, Ada M. and Alice. They are all members of the Lutheran Church. Mr. Iler belongs to Major May Post, G. A. R., Anderson. He is a member of the I. O. O. F., of Anderson, having joined that order at Centreville, Wayne county, over thirty years ago, and in which he has filled all the chairs. He has represented his lodge in the Grand Lodge of the State, of which he is a member. In his political opinions he is a stanch Jeffersonian Democrat, while on local issues he is independent of party ties.

Mr. Iler has always been an industrious man of reliable character. When his country needed his services as a soldier, he responded to the call promptly, and always served faithfully, efficiently and cheerfully, and it is safe to say that he has been as good a citizen in the day of peace as he was a defender of his country in the time of war. He is highly respected and esteemed throughout Madison county.

One of the Fernhoppers who became extremely interested was a handsome and suave upper classman, Jim iller, '30, who later became a big gun with the U.S. Forest Service. In April 1929 Jim and Jean announced their engagement; they were married a year later. Appropriately, Jean had already transferred to Home Economics, to prepare for her new responsibilities. Jean got her forestry degree alright, but it was a MRS. instead of the customary BS. 20655

Meanwhile, her brother George Frey, a senior in 1930, also get hitched, and Mrs. George Frey and Mrs. Jim joined forces in Home Ec in 1929-30, experimenting with vittles and vitamins that would pacify timber-beasts.

Male Fernhoppers at that time could sign up for an optional course in Home Ec called Camp Cooking. Many future district rangers did. The final exam was the preparation of a complete deluxe banquet meal, with duties assigned to the sub-chefs. You passed the course if you survived after eating what you had cooked.

Health and Water

Incredible as it seems, water is quite possibly the single most important catalyst in weight loss. Water suppresses the appetite naturally and helps the body metabolize stored fat. Studies have shown that a decrease in water intake will cause fat deposits to increase, while an increase in water intake can actually reduce fat deposits. Although most of us take it for granted, water may be the "only true magic potion" for permanent weight loss and here's why:

The kidneys cannot function properly without enough water. When they do not work to capacity, some of their workload is passed onto the liver. The liver's primary function is to metabolize stored fat into usable energy for the body. But, if the liver has to do some of the kidney's work, it cannot work at optimum efficiency. As a result, it metabolizes less fat and more fat remains stored in the body and weight loss stops.

Drinking enough water is also the best treatment for fluid retention. When the body gets less water, it perceives this as a threat to survival and begins to hold onto every drop. Water is stored in extra cellular spaces [outside the cells]. This shows up as swollen feet, hands and legs. Diuretics [pills] offer a temporary solution at best as they "force" out stored water along with some essential nutrients. The body will again perceive this as a threat and will replace the lost water at the first opportunity. The best way to overcome the problem of water retention is to give your body what it needs, plenty of fresh clean water.

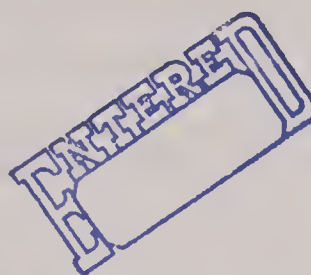

If you have a constant problem with water retention, excess salt may also be to blame. Your body will tolerate sodium only in certain concentrations. The larger the salt intake, the more water your system retains to dilute the salt. But getting rid of unneeded salt is very easy, simply drink more water. As water is forced through the kidneys, it removes the excess sodium and water retention eases.

Larger people have larger metabolic loads thus an over weight person naturally needs more water. Water helps to maintain proper muscle tone, by giving muscles their natural ability to contract and by preventing dehydration. Water helps to prevent sagging skin that usually follows weight loss as the shrinking cells are buoyed by water which plumps the skin and leaves it clear, healthy and resilient. Water assists the body in expelling toxic wastes. During weight loss periods, the body has substantially more waste to get rid of as the metabolized fat is broken down and shed. Water also relieves constipation. When the body receives too little water, it siphons what it needs from internal sources and the result is constipation. With sufficient water intake, the bowel will function normally and constipation problems are minimized.

In summary, we have discovered some remarkable truths about water and about weight loss: The body will not function properly without enough water and therefore cannot metabolize stored fat efficiently; retained water shows up as excess weight; to get rid of excess water you must drink more water; and drinking water is essential to weight loss, weight stability and proper body functions.

HOW MUCH WATER IS ENOUGH?

On the average, a person should drink eight - eight ounce glasses of water everyday. However, the over weight person needs one additional glass for every 25 pounds of excess weight. The amount that you drink should be increased if you exercise or if the weather is hot and dry. Water should preferably be cold, it's absorbed more quickly into the system than warm water, some evidence suggests that drinking cold water can actually burn calories! When the body gets sufficient water to function correctly, its fluids are balanced and you have reached the "break through point". This means that the endocrine gland functions normally and fluid retention is minimal. More fat is used as fuel because the liver is free to metabolize stored fat and a natural thirst desire returns.

THE REMEDY

Drink more water! However being able to drink more water is also a problem. Too many of us are faced with the fact that our tap water just doesn't taste very good, nor do we trust it. The simple remedy to this problem is to use a Doulton Water Treatment System. These systems ensure that bacteria [E. coli; the one primarily responsible for traveller's diarrhea; salmonella, streptococcus, cholera, hepatitis, typhoid and parasitic diseases such as giardia lamblia; commonly known as "beaver fever"] are removed from the water along with sediment and particulates before the water is treated for the removal of chemical contaminants like: Chlorine, Chloroform [THM's], PCB's, Dioxins, EDB, Pesticides, Lead, Iron and a host of others. A Doulton Water Treatment System also removes offensive odours, improves the taste and makes the water Sparkling Fresh, Clear and Clean Tasting once again! The systems come in many models: Three Stage Counter Top, and a wide variety of Multi-Stage Under the Sink configurations.

Looking for ancestors of William Iler of Bulloch Co. GA. He was born, possibly in Sumter Co., S.C. ca. 1800, and died in Bulloch Co. in 1862. I descend from his daughter Mary (1822-1888) who was the wife of Thomas H. Denmark.

Hereby ratifying & confirming all the acts of my said atty in the premises.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand seal this 11th day of October AD 1851.

JACOB A. OLLER

An article from the local paper.

Mr. Editor:

sir, Mr. Jacob Oller having died after a few hours illness on Friday evening, September 27, and some of the neighbors, having manifested a felief that foul play had been used and that Mr. Oller had been poisoned. Mr. Daniel Downs believing his daughter and family incapable of such an atrocious act, requested us in conjunction with Dr. Bennett to make a post-mortem examination of the body, which we did on Tuesday, October 8th, and found clearly and satisfactorily that Mr. Oller had died a natural death of Atrophy--a lessening of the heart, it only weighing about one half what it should have weighed. Its walls having become thin and attenuated it kept up life as long as it was possible. From the previous history of the man and the symptoms that preceded death were such that would convince any intelligent physician that the subject died of heart disease. Believing the community will be as we are, entirely satisfied, we subscribe our names.

THE EILER FAMILY HISTORY

(By Margaret Eiler for Phyllis Jean Metcalf) 46663

Great Grandfather & Great Grandmother--Jacob and Margaret Eiler
Grandfather & Grandmother--Daneil and Louisa Eiler
Father and Mother--Howard and Lena Eiler Mine - Everett + Susie Eiler
Phyllis and Dole Metcalf

JACOB EILER, the great grandfather of Phyllis Jean Eiler Metcalf was born near East Liverpool, Ohio in the year of 1812, of Pennsylvania Plain People and called Dunkards--somewhat like Quakers. His forbearers came from Germany or Switzerland. He had one sister and no brothers. As he neared manhood, he went to Michigan to find newer country to settle. Whether his parents had died and his sister went with him, I do not know. He was always known and remembered for his kindness, honesty and goodness to all he knew. We will leave him now and go to West Virginia to the Jordan Family.

Mrs Jordan was the daughter of the Cunninghams and if you read the Indian trouble and the wars, you will read of them. Margaret Jordan was born somewhere near 1814. The family remained in West Virginia until the children were grown and, at least, all or part of them left for new country. They were all Methodists and at least one or more were Methodists preachers. One settled in Des Moines, Iowa and there was a church called the Jordan Methodist Church, named after its preacher. One brother or more and Margaret Jordan settled in Michigan. They were looking for a sister Agnes who had gone West and had married Calvin Smith and located in Missouri, and his father had founded the town of Smithville, Missouri. They intended to cross the border into Kansas which was then opening up for settlement. There was great trouble between the slave and non-slave holding people, so they decided to stay on the Missouri side where the question was settled. They went to near-by Savana, Missouri and settled on a farm and stayed there until 1854 when Kansas became a territory and Jacob and Margaret moved into Atchinson County Kansas and took up a claim of farm land, built a log cabin and lived there until they died--of course, enlarging the house. They now had six daughters and one son. The two oldest were soon married.

Before we begin on the children, I want to tell you of this family. I should tell you something of Margaret Jordan Eiler for she was the strength and power from marriage to death which, I think was in or close there. She was, indeed, a remarkable person. She was a leader of leaders. Put her in any society and she would lead. She was a famous cook and entertainer, a good dresser. She was known for her dinners. She could converse on most any subject and with any one--in fact, she outshone any one. She was not a boss, she lead. She and Jacob were a wonderful couple and made a home that will always be remembered by their grandchildren who lived at that time.

Phyll, your father and mothers home on Christmas makes me think of the Christmases at the old home, the "Eiler Home" in Atchison County Kansas. There were seven children and their families and they trad 44 to all be home around the large stone fire place where the great logs were throwing out a wonderful heat and light. I do not remember gifts, but I do remember the fruit from the orchards, nuts from our own woods and home made candy and the feast on the table, the music on the old organ and the singing and fun. Well, it was Christmas Day in either 1877 or 1878--a cold winter day--when good old Grandpa took cold and fever, was put to bed, pneumonia set in and on New Years Day he died. Grandma took to her bed and one month later she too was gone, without ever knowing that Jacob, her beloved husband was gone. She was buried by his side in the old country church yard called Round Prairie. Just when they were married, I do not know, but it was in Michigan and they drove over land in a wagon and horses to Missouri. The old home was sold and the children all in homes of their own. Now, to the different children.

These were the seven children of Jacob and Margaret Eiler--six girls and one boy:

7351	Natilda	called	Tilly
7374	Eliza	"	Lide
7376	Daniel Wert	"	Dan or Danny
7382	Agnes	"	Add
7386	Morah	"	Node
7388	Sarah	"	Pud
7390	Elizabeth	"	Lizzie

See page 54

Father (Dan) was 13 years old when they moved to Kansas and I think that Tilly and perhaps Lide were married, but I am not sure. Anyway, we will continue.

7351 TILLY EILER ^{C43441} married Jasper Oliphant and lived on a well improved farm in Atchison County Kansas. It was located not far from the Missouri river and the Post Office was called Oak Mills. Uncle Jasper had built a nice 2 story frame house, his farm was well improved and he had prospered. He was a good farmer and had a large family. There was--Mary married to Joe Scrugs, Emma married to Joe Adams, Will, Jacob, called Jake, Belle, Frank, Lulu, and Gertrude called Gertie. The first tragedy comes in here. You know there was much hatred between those of the North and South. ① Mary married a young man of the South. He was wild, drank and not inclined to work. They had one little girl named Beuna. Things grew worse and Uncle Jasper took Mary and little girl home and told Joe he would keep her unless he did better. One Sunday afternoon Joe came and asked for Mary and the child and Uncle Jasper refused to let them come. Joe quickly drew a gun and shot Uncle Jasper and he fell dead. Joe jumped from the porch and fled. People and neighbors all around started to look for him. Along toward morning they came upon him. He quickly drew his gun and killed a neighbor and then gave himself up. They asked if he had anything to say and he asked if they would get Grandpa (Jacob) to pray. They went for Jacob and with all kneeling there in the woods, Grandpa led in prayer for the doomed man. Then they hung him on a limb of an oak tree and cut a large X on the tree. As we used to go to Aunt Tillies, we would always see the tree. ② Emma Married Joe Adams and settled on a farm next to her mother's farm. Joe Adams came to be one of the most prosperous farmers in that part of Kansas. He had fine orchards and was one of the biggest wheat growers in Atchison and Leavenworth Counties.

After he became quite rich, he built a very lovely home. They had four children--Jenny, Willie, Pearl and Joe. They were all well educated for farm boys and girls. All were sent to town for High School and there were not many High Schools for country boys and girls then and some of them to college. Jenny died when quite young. Pearl never married and I think died some time ago. Both the father and mother have been dead for a long time. The last I heard of Willie and Joe they owned, each of them, fine farms in Leavenworth and had very beautiful two storied brick homes.

Will, the next of the Oliphants grew up, married a girl in Weston, Missouri. She was a very lovely woman and very queenly in manners. They had seven daughters. Both Will and his wife Frankie are dead and I do not know about the seven daughters. Jake, the next, was always my favorite of this family and maybe because he was named Jacob. Jake and Belle went to college at Paola, Kansas. Jake became Depot Master of the rail road station at Belleville, Kansas. He married a girl there and lived there many years. They had one little daughter. Jake and family came to Los Angeles and visited mother since she lived here. Both Jake and wife are dead and, I think, also his daughter.

Belle Oliphant was next and to me the pick of the five girls. After going to college at Paola with Jake, she taught country school for, I believe, a year or so and married Bob Bruner--a mighty fine man who lived in Northern Kansas. He had lived in Atchison County. I never saw Belle after she was married. They lived in or around Sabetha, Kansas. They were a lovely couple, had four girls. Those who knew them said they were such good looking girls. Bob, her husband, was a fine looking man and was County Treasurer there for some time. He died, but Belle and girls remained there except for one who went to Washington D.C. where she was employed. One day here in Los Angeles, Mother was working in her yard and two young women stopped and one said is this Mrs. Dan Eiler and Mother said yes and she said she was a daughter of Belle Oliphant Bruner and her mother told her to look mother up and see her. The next day they spent the day with Mother. That is the last time I have heard of Belle and family.

Frank, the next in the Oliphants grew up and went to Business School in Atchison and, after graduating, married Ida Maud Robins--a cousin of Will's wife. Later they moved to Kansas City, Missouri. They had one little girl and Ida was a wonderful house keeper. Frank was not very strong but they got along quite well. One day after I had just gotten home from summer vacation, Ida called me and told me Frank was very ill. That evening Frances and I went over. He had typhoid fever and the next day he died. The funeral was at the home and he was taken to Round Prairie cemetery for burial. I went to the services at the home and, I believe, that was about the last time I saw any of the Oliphant family. I saw Mary, Will and one or two of his daughters, Mary's daughter Lulu and the two Adams boys--Willie and Joe who were both fine looking men at Frank's funeral. That was about 1920 or 1921.

Lulu was next and she married Bud Daniels of Leavenworth. They had four or five boys and one girl and two of her boys located out here in Los Angeles. Their mother came out to visit them and it was a summer I was here on vacation and saw her. I don't know where they are now.

or how many of them are living.

⑧ Gertrude, or Gertie as she was called, lived and married out near Belle and I never saw her after she grew up. Her mother--Aunt Tilly had been dead for many years. I heard that Gertie had one son who was killed in the first World War.

The Oliphants was the first limb on the Eiler Tree. It was a big strong limb and had many branches. A number of years ago they organized to meet once a year. I don't know whether they still meet or not. They did always meet at Topeka, Kansas and there were sometimes over a hundred present. Take them all together, they produced good fruit on their limb. Since coming out here, I have lost track of many of them.

ELIZA EILER or Aunt Lide was the second limb. She married Tom Payne who came from Liberty, Missouri. I never knew any of his family, but have heard all of them talk of Puss Payne--his sister--and the Eilers seemed to think lots of Puss. Aunt Lide and Uncle Tom lived at Robinson, Kansas in Doniphan County. Uncle Tom was--well, he was just full of the old "Nick"--greatest story teller you ever knew. Boys loved to hear him tell of his adventures and whether they were part or most just romance, I don't know, but that didn't keep boys from loving him and standing around to hear him talk. He and my father were the greatest of friends. About the last time I saw him he was telling me that he loved Dan better than anyone. Uncle Tom and Aunt Lide had these children--Charlie, Anna, John, Jim, Addie, Elizabeth or Lizzie and Tom. It seems to me that Charles would be at least 100 or more years old were he living. His wife was an attractive woman and they lived in Eastern Kansas but later moved to Traer in Decatur County for several years and then to Bird City. Charles lived there where he was in the lumber business. While there his wife died and he became helpless with arthritis and one of his children living in McCook or North Platte took him to live with them and he died there. I heard that he and his wife were both buried at Bird City. They had three children, I believe, but do not know anything about them. Uncle Tom made your folks a long visit while Charles lived in Traer, but Aunt Lide was dead. She was buried in Jewel County Kansas.

The next of the Paynes was John and then Jim. When they were young and we all lived in Eastern Kansas, these two boys and Jake Oliphant used to visit at our home together so much. They always said Aunt I (that's your grandmother who just celebrated her 100th birthday) could make the best coffee of anyone and when they would come the first words they'd say was "Do you have any coffee, Aunt Lou?" They both married and moved to Jewel County Kansas where most of the family moved. John's wife was named Vira and was very much loved by all the family. They had one or two children--I'm not sure--and John and Vira and that family were, I think, buried in Jewel County. Jim, also, came there and his wife and one girl moved to San Bernadina, California. Someone had told her that I came out here in the summer and she wrote me a long letter. I had never seen her, but one summer when I was here she came to Los Angeles and we had lunch together and a nice visit. I have never heard from her since.

I have forgotten and left out Anna of the Paynes. She came just after Charlie. He was a very attractive woman. She married while the family lived at Robinson, Kansas. He was a photographer and a Swede and his folks still lived in Sweden and were quite well to do. After a few years his parents died and left quite an estate and they went over and lived there for several years. Then they returned to their old home at Sutton, Nebraska. Later Anne and her husband Peter moved to Pasadena, California and your grandmother and I visited them several times. The last time I heard from her she was very sick. I called a time or two, but no answer. I should have written, but have not done so. Her husband's name was Peter Soderberg. They had one son and one grandson. Anna's husband has been dead for several years.

Addie, the second daughter, married and moved to Colorado. She had one son who died during the great scourge of "flu". And she had lost her husband. I never saw her but once after we were young girls. She was four or five years older than me. The last time I heard anything she lived in Fort Collins, Colorado. Lizzie, the next Payne girl was my age, black eyed and lively like her Dad, Uncle Tom. She lived at Denver. At that time the governor of Colorado got into big trouble, was exposed and put in the penitentiary. Lizzie's husband worked for him, but he escaped and went to England. I don't know just what became of him. Lizzie went to work and raised her son and daughter. They all live in Denver and I had dinner with Lizzie about ten years ago. I never saw Tommie--named for his father--since we were children. He moved to Jewel County with the family and the last I heard any of them say, He was on a farm there.

This is as far as the Payne limb of the Jacob and Margaret tree goes that I know. I can't remember them as well as the Oliphant limb as I did not live as close to them.

The Daniel Wirt Eiler limb comes next, but as that is our limb, I will leave it to the last as I want to carry it out more carefully.

The NORAH EILER REMSBURG limb then is next. There was another boy in here, but he died as an infant and I do not know his name. Norah Eiler married John Remsburg. He was from Ohio and a highly educated man and a lecturer also a horticulturist. They bought a farm lying next to Grandfathers and built a nice house and put out a fine orchard. They always had lots of flowers. There was a stone walk that run down to a beautiful spring where they always got the water they used in the house. It was about a six room house, two stories. They lived there until after the children were raised and when Grandpa and Grandma died, Uncle John's mother and step father bought Grandfather's farm. I forgot to say that on one side of Uncle John's yard there was a grove of oak and hickory trees. Their place was really artistic. When I think of my childhood, I think back to these three homes close to- 47880 gether. Grandpa's, Uncle John's and ours were all three next to each other. Uncle John and Aunt Norah had these children--George, John, 47881
Claude, Realure, Wirt, Gene and Charlie. George was six days younger than me and we were close friends. George and John never married and were well known as writers on both the Leavenworth and Atchison papers. George, especially on the "Atchison Champion" which was the best known paper in Kansas for many years. John was also a wonderful pianist.

At one time he lived in Oberlin and lived with your Grandmother and had a music store. When he left Oberlin he went back to Atchison with his folks. Charlie was also on the same papers as the other two boys. He has been dead for some years. The only girl was named Realure Rosalin--too long to spell. She married a young man by the name of Harry Harness. They had two boys. She became quite a teacher and worker with the Phillippinos and her husband left her. All the Remsburg family moved to Porterville, California about twenty-five years ago. They used to visit the folks here and Mother and Roy's visited them. Uncle John and Aunt Norah died some years ago. I do not know how many are living. I wrote George when your Uncle Roy died (Geo. always said Roy was his favorite cousin) and I had a long letter from him. Lura visited us once since I came out here. That's the last I heard from any of them. Lura used to write Ada and she doesn't any more. I believe Lurs was about your Dad's age. When your Aunt Frances died, Charles Remsburg came to see your Dad and me at Maude's.

AGNES EILER or Aunt Addie should have been given just before Aunt Nora. She was, in a way, the best looking and the liveliest one of the six daughters and yet she was of a moody disposition. When she was a young lady, she didn't want any one to know how old she was so she blotted out her age from the family Bible. She lived to be of an older age than any of the six girls and one boy. I thought she was three years younger than her brother Dan and when she died, we counted up and she would have been 92 years old. She was very bright and witty, a good story teller. She married Charley Griffin from near Atchison who was a brilliant lawyer, a fine looking man, but a great fault--he drank hard. They had three children--Earnest, Grace and Ed. They lived in Atchison until the children were quite small and Uncle Charley died leaving Aunt Add with three small children. Later, Aunt Add moved to Nortonville, Kansas, Atchison County where they lived until the children were grown and working. Both Earnest and Ed were with a whole sale drug company. Grace was beautiful with dark eyes and hair and a beautiful form. They had now moved back to Atchison. About this time the papers got up a contest on the most beautiful girl in the State of Kansas and the Atchison paper--the Champion--backed Grace. After some months, Grace won. Later, the family all moved to Kansas City, Missouri as the Whole Sale Drug Company where they worked had moved. Grace married a young man she grew up with in Atchison by the name of Aaron Everest and with his Mother, they moved to London, England. Your Aunt Frances and I attended her wedding at her mother's home. They lived in London a number of years, coming home once and finally coming home for good and lived most of that time in St. Louis, Missouri. She became the stylist for a large store, but now she has retired and lives with her brother Ed and his wife in Kansas City. Ed was for years with a Whole Sale Company and is now retired and he and his wife and Grace live at 2802 East 6th St., Kansas City, Missouri.

ELIZABETH EILER or (Lizzie) as she was called was the last of the six Eiler girls--the daughters of Jacob and Margaret Eiler. She was very bright and active and taught school several years in Atchison, Kansas. Aunt Lizzie, like all six of the girls, was good company, in most any company she was a leader. She married a Mr. Orville Fisher who owned a nice farm just over in Leavenworth County. He was quite a good deal older than Aunt Lizzie. It was a nice farm and well improved. They had four children that are all living, I think. At least, they were the last time I heard of them--still three on the farm. When the children were growing up to about somewhere between 12-16 or more, Aunt Lizzie died and Frances, Maud and I went up to the funeral. It was in April and the apple orchards were all in bloom. Everything was beautiful. We went from Kansas City on the train to Leavenworth and there we got a carriage and team and a driver to take us out to her home. We saw many of the relatives there. The Presbyterians had built a church near by and the services were held there and she was buried in the old Round Prairie Church Yard where her father and mother are. In about ten or more years, Uncle Orville died and again I was there. We drove from Kansas City and he was buried by her side. The four children were Clarence, Nettie, Helen and Clyde. Clarence, when he was around twenty or more went back to Ohio--his father's old home--met a girl that he later married. I believe all the children except Clyde the youngest boy was married when Uncle Orville died and Mr. Janssen, Mildred, Marie and I drive in auto up to funeral. Nellie never married and became a nurse. Helen married John Cory. They had no children and he died. Clyde was in the army a long time. He had graduated at Manhattan. He married but I do not remember her name. They had two children and the last time I knew, he lived in Northern California. Clarence, the oldest in the family, always lived on the farm in Leavenworth County. He was near your Dad's age and one year when they were quite young men he went to Oberlin and spent the year with the folks. He has two sons and I do not know whether Clarence and sisters still live on the farm or not.

SARAH EILER, or (Pud) as she was called, has been left out and should have come just before Elizabeth. I believe she was the most beloved of the six girls. She married when she was sixteen years old and had one girl named Maud. She married a man by the name of George Stout and was left a widow when Maud was about three years old. She took Maud and went to live with her parents. Then the three families lived close together. After Grandpa and Grandma died, she took her daughter Maud and lived with her sister the Griffins until Maud grew up and married and then she lived with her. Maud and her family moved to Kansas City and the Griffins moved to Kansas City and every summer Aunt Addie Griffin and Aunt Pud would go and spend the summer with the Fishers and Remsburgs on their farms in Atchison and Leavenworth Counties. One day Aunt Pud and Nellie drove a young horse to a buggy for the mail which was about a mile from their home. The horse became frightened, ran away, upset the buggy, killing Aunt Pud. Again, Mr. Janssen, Maud, Frances and I and Frank Oliphant drove up to the old burial ground of Round Prairie and Aunt Pud was laid to rest with her father and mother and some of her sisters. It was several years later that we went to Orville Fisher's funeral and this is the last time I have gone to Atchison County Kansas which is, I think, the real home of the Eiler family.

DANIEL WIRT EILER, son of Jacob and Margaret Eiler was born in Missouri June 28, 1841 near Savana on a farm. In 1854, after much war between the slave and non-slave people, the Territory of Kansas was opened up as non-slavery and Grandpa Eiler, (Jacob) his wife, six daughters and one son Daniel moved over and settled on a farm in Atchison County.

He built, as all new settlers, a log cabin. Two or more of the daughters were married and, with their families, settled on land near by. Father was a boy thirteen years old. I think the Oliphants did not come from Missouri for several years. It was very bad times with much trouble between the Southern and the Northern sides and between the Missouri and Kansas sides. Each side tried stealing of cattle and all kinds of livestock, there was much murdering and all kinds of trouble--just like a Civil War. There were no railroads and all shipping was done by oxen or horses. A government fort was built in Leavenworth County and called Fort Leavenworth and most business and shopping was done there. Farmers would haul things like crops and farm produce there and buy supplies for home to last several weeks. The settlers that came in and settled there were, most of them, a very high class of people. The ground was rich and fine farms were all around. They built good--rather fine--homes as they had in the East where most of them originally came from. The cities of Atchison and Lawrence were started. And from the start were good schools. They were mostly New England people and therefore belived in good schools.

46274 Well, Phyll, here was/where your Grandfather started out and in this County my brother George, your Aunt Frances, myself, Uncle Everett, your Dad and Uncle Roy was born. Your Uncle Floyd and Aunt Ada were born in Miami County Kansas. Atchison County Kansas was and is a very rich county. Well, to go on about your Grandfather, Daniel. 46276 46271 46269 46270 46272 46278 7376

46276 The cou try was just about to enter the civil war and there was no work for a young man. He was about 19 or 20 years old and he decided to join an overland shipping gang--I suppose you would call it. Big covered wagons drawn by six or eight or more oxen. The driver had long braided whips they would crack over the oxen. At night, they would camp around the camp fires. Your Grandfather was one of the drivers. They would drive through great droves of Buffalo and the Buffalo was their chief meat. This is the way they did their shipping to Denver, Colorado. The Codys' lived a few miles over in Leavenworth County and Bill Cody--who became Buffalo Bill--was a boy about 15 or 16 years old and he went along as a helper, but not a driver. They drove this way until they came to Denver. There they unloaded and loaded another load to take back to Leavenworth. They had now been gone some weeks and were some place in Nebraska near North Platte when they met another train going out. Some decided to return to Denver and some went back home. Your Grandfather returned home. Among those that stayed was Bill Cody and he became one of the first men who killed Buffalo for the Army. Your Grandfather returned home and joined the Army for the Civil War. He joined the 13th KS Regiment. They left Leavenworth and moved across Missouri with one battle. Then into ~~Ark~~ Arkansas where they were with the Army that helped keep the Southern Army back. They were stationed at Little Rock. Your Grandfather was a splendid penman and was chosen on that account to be secretary to Col. Boen and remained as such until the close of the war. Then he returned home to his fathers. It wasn't long until he married Miss Mollie Sheley of Weston, Missouri. That was my mother and there were three of us children--George, Frances and myself. George was a young man and was working at Aunt Lizzie and Uncle Orville Fisher's in Leavenworth County when he died. That was about 1899. About six years before this, father had sold the old farm in Atchison County and bought a farm in Miami County Kansas. While we were still living in Atchison County, Father had married a Miss Louisa Wolfe 7378 and while still there, Everett, Howard and Roy were born and Floyd and Ada were born in Miami County. When your Aunt Ada was only 2 or 3 months old, we all came to Decatur County and settled on a farm north of Oberlin--north about two miles from where Floyd lives. The house and all are gone now then later west a mile and that house is gone. They moved to town where they lived when your grandfather, Daniel Eiler, died and was buried in Oberlin. Your Aunt Frances and I had gone to Kansas City where Aunt Frances was in the telephone Company and I was teaching. Soon after this your Uncle Everett married Susie Ireland and they had three children--Frances, Alice and Bill. 47900

Your Dad married Lena Reasoner and the children were Robert, Margaret, Pauline, Floyd, Harry and Phyllis. Roy and Floyd went to Los Angeles and were followed by their mother and Ada. Soon after, Floyd joined the Los Angeles Police and was killed on a Christmas Day while doing his duty. He is buried in Rosedale Cemetery in Los Angeles. Floyd had never married. After going to Los Angeles, Roy married a widow--Louise Oliphant and they had one son Douglas. Roy died when Douglas was 15 or 16 years old and is buried in Inglewood Park cemetery in Los Angeles. Ada married Robert Turner and lived at 359 W. 56th Street and Robert died while they lived there and is buried at Inglewood Park cemetery. Mother and Ada were both living there when the Freeway moved then out. Ada then bought at 1851 W. 82nd Street. She is listed in phone book as Mrs. Robt. M. Turner, 1851 W. 82nd. Mother lives with her and has just observed her 100th birthday. Everett and Susie's grandchildren are Martha Sue who is in High School, the twins, Gene and Becky who are about 7th grade. These are the children of Gene and Frances Morehead who live in Norton, Kansas. Alice and Don Wiggins live in Longview, Washington and have three children. Don who has finished the Navy and is home, Bill about eleven years old and Jane nine. Everett and Susie's son Bill and his wife Ilo also live at Longview and have no children.

Howard is next and he married Lena Reasoner of Decatur County Kansas somewhere close to 1908 and have lived their entire married life near Oberlin with exception of one year which they spent in Los Angeles. They have raised a large, happy family and the credit must go to the father and mother for the devoted life they gave to the upbringing of this large family. Robert, the oldest, was never very well and died 47900 when about thirty-five years old and is buried in the Oberlin Cemetery--a very lovable boy. Margaret III (third in Eiler Family), was born on 47901 the farm about three miles north of town, Pauline a year and half later 47903 on same farm, then Floyd, Harry and Phyllis. These and Everett's children have been a great joy to me and to their parents. Margaret 47901 went to school in Manhattan, Kansas and was in office in Kansas City for three years. She married Lloyd Hurlbut, a graduate at Manhattan 47902 and University of Nebraska and they live at Lincoln, Nebraska. Pauline graduated from Manhattan, taught in High School several years and married Vernon Loomis who graduated from College of Emporia and Howard Lester, eleven years old and Barbara Jean, nine. They are both good students at school. They live in Denver, Colorado and Vernon is instructor at Denver University. The next of Howard and Lena's children is Floyd. He grew up on the farm in Decatur County and graduated from Oberlin High School. He made a good record both in his studies and behavior. After he had been out of school a few months, he went to Illinois and took over a large farm for a Mrs. Bell. He stayed a year, then came home and worked until the call for colors as World War II was seen rising on the horizon. He was the first boy by the name of Eiler in the family carrying our country's flag since his Grandfather, Daniel Eiler, served in the Civil War. He left our country going to England and then to the mainland of Europe with the Heavy Artillery in the 1st Army under Gen. Hodge and served during the entire war. When he came home, he settled on the farm with his Father and returned to farming and cattle raising. He then married and he and Mary took over the farming but lived near by. His wife was Mary Perkins, a nurse from McCook, Nebraska. Soon after, his father and mother bought a home at 212 So. East Ave., and moved to Oberlin to live. Floyd bought his father's farm and moved his family consisting now of his wife Mary, her son, Roger, and their two darling little boys--Ronnie and Danny (named after his great grandfather Dan Eiler). Harry was the next son of Howard and Lena's. He was a happy lively youngster who seemed to like everyone, got along with everyone, and was a good mixer. He too grew up, went through the City and High School at Oberlin and all the time he attended High School, he worked every Friday in the stock or cattle sale barn also keeping up with his school work. It wasn't long before he had his "call to colors" and he found he was to go West to Japan and the Islands. Then when the war closed, he was kept in Japan helping police and watch over the Japanese people. When he returned home, he went right away to work with two sale barns--one at Oberlin and one at McCook and is living at McCook, Nebr. Harry met and fell in love with a Decatur County girl--a daughter of one of the early settlers of the County, Beverly, after graduating from High School, was employed in one of the Auto Companies. She and Harry were married at home and after the service, the mother served a beautiful breakfast to the guests and they went on a little wedding trip before settling in Oberlin and later moving to McCook where Harry is with the Sales Barn. They, also, have two darling boys--Lamaine and Mark who are four and five years old. Now, to our last--Phyllis Jean who is the youngest of Howard and Lena. She was born on the farm north of Oberlin, was full of push and ambition, clever in work, good business manager and fine housekeeper. She came into this world with, not only her father and mother to love her, but two older sisters and two brothers who rather idolized her and some old aunts with the same feeling for her. She went through Oberlin City and High School with fine records. At first Alumni Banquet after graduating, she put over a fine banquet--one of the largest and most successful. The coming year she was offered a job by the President of the Farmers National Bank where she worked for two or three years. She had then met one of the Decatur County boys and was married. His family and Mr. Fish (an uncle) were connected with and President of the Farmers National Bank. Dole's father and Uncle are still cattlemen living on ranches that were owned by Dole's grandfather and Uncl. When Dole and Phyll were married, they too moved on the Metcalf ranch where Dole follows the family occupation of cattle raising. Dole and Phyll have one beautiful girl with dark eyes and hair and Joe, a red haired boy about one year old.

The Eiler Family, as I know them, began in 1812 with Jacob Eiler and has now reached to Joe Eiler Metcalf--one year old in 1958. May they continue in the future as they have been in the past--honest, industrious men and women, striving to be helpful in the world.

As I look back over the years, it seems to me that of all the women in this gay throng that I have written of, those most like Margaret Jordan Eiler was Aunt Addie Griffin and Phyllis Eiler Metcalf. Good cooks, I might say, a wonderful cook and not only cook but a fine house keeper and manager. Knew how to meet people and entertain them. She, or really the women of the Eiler family, rather stood out strong in the love of the social side of life. And as I look back on the side of the men, the two that were honest through out life in everything were Jacob Eiler and your father, Howard Eiler. In a big deal or a small deal, they were strictly honest and as a family of men from little Joe to Jacob Eiler, it would be hard to find a more up-standing lot of men. May they always continue so.

Well, Phyll, I am drawing to a close and will do so by telling you of one wedding--that of Aunt Lizzie's, the youngest daughter of Jacob and Margaret Eiler. I must have been about 5 years old and can remember part of it very well. It was held at the old farm house--their first Kansas Home. I can only remember that George, Frances, myself and Maud were the only children invited as we were the grandchildren that lived at the old farm house as we had lived there when Maud was fatherless and we were motherless. Grandmother must have been several weeks preparing the wedding feast. A long table reached across the room that was a combined living room and dining room, was covered with a snowy white cloth, chairs all around this table and food, food, wonderful food. The wedding cake was about, I should think, nine or 10 inches high and made of three cakes with one on top of each other and sloping from bottom to top, frosted white and piled high on top with rock candy and a bouquet of artificial flowers. I must tell you there were tall glasses of jelly striped in two colors. She had made two kinds of jelly--one red and one light. She poured in a bottom or thin layer and would let it cool and harden. Then on that, the other color and let it harden and so on to the top of the glasses. It was very beautiful. Then the table fairly groaned with meats, puddings, home made pies, smaller cakes and all things. A funny thing, I can not remember seeing any one eating nor remember eating a bite myself.

While this has been a rather hard task, it has been a work of LOVE and hope you can make it all out.

Your Aunt Margaret to her niece Phyll.

Death of young daughter brings family to Round Prairie Cemetery

by L. Candy Ruff, Times Lifestyles Editor

Leavenworth Times, Sunday, Oct. 11, 1987

Round Prairie Cemetery had been used for several years before Thomas and Margaret Snoddy buried their 7-year-old daughter there in 1861. They selected a plot at the highest elevation in the cemetery and on Oct. 18, 1861 Rebecca Ann Snoddy was laid to rest.

The death of this child prompted her parents to deed land to the cemetery association that had been started at the beginning of the Civil War. Little did the couple know that their other child would begin a family, produce nine children and for the next five generations have the responsibility of caring for Round Prairie Cemetery.

Today's descendents are two young people, Dennis and Lisa French, children of David and Ann French. They mow, trim around the headstones and generally care for the cemetery where their great-great-grandparents, great-grandparents, and grandparents are buried.

These youngsters have deep roots in northern Leavenworth County and one of their ancestors wrote a book in order to capture the story of the family's early years. James E. Pennington's memories are told in "Recollections," a book he wrote in 1930 at the age of 82. Pennington married the Snoddy's other child, Margaret, just after the Civil War. They had nine children and eight of them are buried alongside their parents in the family plot.

"He wanted us to remember the old times," his great-granddaughter Cindy Wooten said not long ago. "He was a very literate man and did a great deal of reading. The story goes that when he was getting up in years, his children pressed him to write down all the things he had been telling them all for years. I'm sure glad he did."

Pennington's story begins in 1830 when his parents moved from Tennessee to Missouri. They settled in Nodaway County in what was called "The Narrows," and in 1847 Pennington was born. The Civil War hit this family hard with two fighting for the South and two for the North. Pennington's father was terrorized by bushwackers and consequently moved his family to Platte County for the remainder of the war.

By this time, the older Pennington had lost his wife, the mother of his 11 children, and had remarried. This new wife was a well-to-do widow who owned land and a large home just outside Platte City. It was from this home that Pennington set out on his own in 1854. He took the ferryboat to Leavenworth and found a job driving oxen for a supply train headed west.

"That's one of the most interesting parts of the book. He stayed out there four years and had quite a few things happen to him, but he came back to be near his family after the war was over," Mrs. Wooten said.

Peace had finally come to "Bleeding Kansas" and the older Pennington had purchased land in the Round Prairie community of northern Leavenworth County. His son joined him in farming, but it wasn't too long before Pennington had his eyes on one of the local girls. That's where Margaret Snoddy comes in.

"Margaret's parents had only two children and one of them died when she was just 7 years old. I guess her parents thought they would never have many grand-children, but like the book says, she had nine of them," she explained.

Pennington tells of the deaths of two of his children in "Recollections," and why the family had to call on the family plot at Round Prairie. Margie died Dec. 12, 1881 and like the Snoddy girl, she was only seven years old.

He told it this way:

We had but little sickness in the family until Margie, at the age of seven, was suddenly stricken with a case of croup which we could not control. In spite of all that could be done, we could not save her. She died and was buried in the cemetery. It was a great shock to us.

The couple's next shock came in 1904. Again the father tells of the death of John, the youngest child.

We were to be made sad because of John, our youngest boy, who died in 1904. He was attacked with a bad case of croup, very much like his sister Margie was, and died in a short time, just as she had. He was almost eight, near her age also, at his death. It was a great shock to us as he was a very lovable boy and took unusual interest in tasks assigned him on the farm. We layed him away in the Round Prairie Cemetery near the graves of his sister and grand-mother.

The cemetery is located just past the old Round Prairie School on US 73, the first gravel road to the west. The school and cemetery were a part of a growing community during the last century. The Round Prairie Union Church served four demoninations from its beginning until it closed at the turn of the century. The cemetery was located across the road from the church.

Pennington describes the lay of the land. The eighty acres given him by his wife's parents were on the north end of the cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Snoddy donated one and one-half acres to the cemetery association. The cemetery had to serve a large community and it became necessary to have it enlarged. Lizzie and I deeded two acres more adjoining it and it made one of the nicest cemeteries in this section.

Mrs. Wooten says the first burial in the cemetery occured in 1829 when Granville Linville died at the age 73. Others were buried over the years, but lots were not formally designated until 1861.

The story of the Pennington family reunion held in 1903 includes several visits to the cemetery. Pennington's 11 brothers and sisters were still living with the youngest one 47 years old. The week-long celebration was well planned and concluded 84 years ago Oct. 17.

Pennington ends his story by telling of one more trip the family had to make to Round Prairie Cemetery. This time it was for a grandchild.

I have not named one of our 25 grandchildren or our seven great-grandchildren. But I believe all will accept my mention of our grandson, Paul Jaynes, who a short time ago met with a tragic accident that resulted in his death. Paul was our oldest grandson and a son of Bess and Joe Jaynes. The accident that caused his death occurred when his foot caught in the cogs of a corn shredder that he owned and was operating. His foot had to be taken off and blood poison set in and he died in less than two days."

He was buried in the family plot in 1926. The author of "Recollections" died Nov. 2, 1935 and his headstone is one of the largest in the cemetery. His book, many of his records and belongings still survive and tell the story of this large family and their ties to Round Prairie Cemetery.

Company K - Killed at Jenkins' Ferry, Ark., Rufus B. Burley, Mound City; at Cabin Creek, Ark., November 19, 1864, by guerrillas, John Harbin, Fort Lincoln.

THIRTEENTH REGIMENT KANSAS VOLUNTEER CAVALRY.

Like the Eleventh and Twelfth, the Thirteenth was raised in conformity to the quota assigned Kansas, under President Lincoln's call of July, 1862, and was recruited by Cyrus Leland, Jr., by virtue of authority delegated to him by Hon. James H. Lane in the counties of Atchison, Brown, Doniphan, Marshall and Nemaha. The rendezvous was established at Camp Stanton, city of Atchison, the regiment organized on the 10th of September, 1862, and mustered into the service of the United States September 20, of the same year, under the following officers:

Field and Staff. - Colonel, Thomas M. Bowen, Marysville; Lieutenant Colonel, John B. Wheeler, Troy; Major, Caleb A. Woodworth, Atchison; Adjutant, William P. Badger, _____; Quartermaster, Cyrus Leland, _____; Surgeon, William M. Grimes, Atchison; Chaplain, Daniel A. Murdock.

Line Officers. - Company A, Captain, Samuel Flickinger, Geary City; First Lieutenant, Joseph A. Nixon, Troy; Second Lieutenant, Alfred A. Clutter, Geary City; Company B, Captain, Henry Haverkorst, Atchison; First Lieutenant, Marion N. Beeler, Troy; Second Lieutenant, August Langehemeken, Atchison; Company C, Captain, Hugh Robertson, Troy; First Lieutenant, Jeremiah Frankhouse, and Second Lieutenant, Alfred C. Dow, both of Doniphan County. Company D, Captain, Henry R. Neal, Atchison; First Lieutenant, John Batsell, _____; Second Lieutenant, Robert Manville, Atchison. Company E, Captain, Perry Hutchinson, and First Lieutenant, James H. McDougall, both of Marysville; Second Lieutenant, John N. Cline, Centralia. Company F, Captain, John E. Hayes, Locust Grove; First Lieutenant, Archimedes S. Speck, Atchison County; Second Lieutenant, William J. May, Monrovia. Company G, Captain, William S. Blackburn, Vermillion; First Lieutenant, Levi Hensel, Seneca; Second Lieutenant, Daniel C. Auld, Vermillion. Company H, Captain, Orlando H. McCauley, Robinson; First Lieutenant, James C. McElroy, Highland; Second Lieutenant, Theodore Collins, Fall City, Neb. Company I, Captain, John Shilling, Hiawatha; First Lieutenant, Alonzo Bradner, Elwood; Second Lieutenant, Langden M. Risley, Hiawatha. Company K, Captain, Patrick McNamara, Locust Grove; First Lieutenant, Daniel C. O'Keefe, Atchison; Second Lieutenant, Hugh Dougherty, Atchison.

In October, the regiment was ordered to join the division of Gen. Blunt, which it accomplished on the 29th, soon after the battle of Old Fort Wayne. It was attached to the Second Brigade. Col. Weer commanding, and as a part of the First Division, Army of the Frontier, participated in the various engagements with Gen. Hindman's forces in Arkansas, ending with his flight over the Arkansas River at Van Buren. It was present and took an active and honorable part in the engagement at Cane Hill; the struggle for the occupation of the crest of the Boston Mountains; and the pursuit which followed the repulse of Marmaduke's cavalry.

At the battle of Prairie Grove, the Thirteenth was one of the first regiments of Gen. Blunt's division that became engaged, and its record, although it was a new regiment, was equally honorable with the older organizations. Every attempt to capture the battery, of which it formed the support, was successfully repulsed with heavy loss to the rebels, and the Thirteenth, with the command, occupied the field at night, ready to renew the struggle in the morning. Gen. Hindman preferring not to so renew it, withdrew his forces before daylight, and the result of the battle was the pursuit of the retreating enemy to Van Buren, and the final dispersion of Gen. Hindman's command. The battle at Prairie Grove virtually finished the campaign for the winter.

After returning to Rhea's Mills, where the army train had been left, Gen. Blunt was relieved by Gen. Schofield, and the army marched to Elm Springs, Ark., remaining in camp at that place until January 7, 1863, when the regiment was ordered to Springfield, Mo., where it remained performing garrison and escort duty until spring. On the 19th of May, it marched to Fort Scott, and for the next two months performed outpost duty at Drywood, a part of the regiment being absent on furlough.

In August, the regiment was again attached to the force of Gen. Blunt, and in pursuit of the rebel Gens. Cooper, Cabell and Stand-Waitie, in Missouri and Arkansas, marched during the month over 400 miles. After the pursuit was abandoned, the brigade to which the Thirteenth was attached moved to Webber's Falls, C. N., on the Arkansas River, remaining about two weeks. It then marched to Scullyville, also in the Cherokee Nation, performing outpost and scout duty until the 6th of November, when it marched to Van Buren, Ark., and went into winter quarters. In March, 1864. Companies A, C, D, G, H and I were ordered to Fort Smith for garrison duty during the absence of Gen. Thayer's command on the Camden expedition, leaving Companies B, E and F to garrison Van Buren. After the evacuation of Camden, the depredations of the guerrillas on the western line of Arkansas became more frequent and daring. The failure of the Seventh Corps to hold the place, after running such a race to gain it, and the success of the rebel leaders in capturing valuable trains, almost within hearing of Gen. Steele's guns, had given the marauding bands fresh courage, and our outposts and advanced stations were held at peril of life and liberty. Capt. Marion N. Beeler, of Company B. received a mortal wound in a night attack on a band of guerrillas, and Col. Bowen was surprised and taken prisoner by another band within rifle shot of his own pickets. He was, however, soon released. The regiment remained on duty at Fort Smith until the 3rd of March, 1865, when it was ordered to Little Rock, Ark., and on the 26th of June was mustered out of service. It then proceeded to Fort Leavenworth, Kan., and on the 13th day of July, 1865, received final payment and discharge.

FATAL CASUALTIES.

Chaplain Ozem B. Gardner, killed in action November 25, 1864, at Timber Hill, Cherokee Nation.

Company C - Killed at Van Buren. Ark., November 8, 1864, Harry O. Stratton; at Prairie Grove, Ark., December, 1862, Eli T. Vickery, Doniphan County.

Index To Kansas Volunteer Regiment Enlistments, 1861-1865

Soldiers in Kansas

Kansas State Historical Society

This is an index to the enlistment papers of Kansas Volunteer Regiments, 1861-1865, which are housed in the state archives. The enlistment papers may contain the following information on a soldier: name, date, and place of birth, date and place enlisted, date and place mustered into service, height, weight, complexion, eye color, signature, and occasionally a medical report.

There are six boxes of approximately 3000 enlistment papers. They are arranged by regiment and company and then alphabetically by surname. Boxes 1-5 contain enlistments for volunteer regiments for 1861-1865. The 6th box contains enlistments for the 19th Kansas Cavalry.

The index for the Kansas Volunteer Regiments gives the name of the soldier as it appears in the Adjutant General's (AGO) report, name as it appears on the enlistment if different, rank, regiment and company. There are some enlistment papers for soldiers who do not appear in the AGO report. The index is arranged alphabetically by surname as it appears in the AGO report.

Archives materials not on microfilm should be requested on a call slip. The locator numbers can be obtained from the reference staff in the research room. Please refer to the correspondence policy for information on how to request copies of original documents.

Obituary

MRS. EVERETT EILER

Susie Joanna, daughter of William and Ella Stever Ireland, was born in the pioneer home of her parents, in their homestead located two miles southwest of Oberlin, Jan. 15, 1884.

She attended grade school and was graduated from the Oberlin High School with the class of 1903. For three years she taught a rural school north of Oberlin, and in September, 1906, she entered Washburn College, Topeka, for further education.

In 1917 Mr. and Mrs. Eiler purchased the Ireland homestead southwest of Oberlin, and this was the family home until 1948, when Mrs. Eiler moved to Oberlin where she had since made her home. The homestead was sold to Keith Savage in 1959.

Mrs. Eiler and children were deprived of husband and father when he died on May 12, 1923.

A member of the Methodist church for many years, she devoted much time and tireless work to the church for the past quarter century. She was an active member of the JCC federated women's club.

Surviving Mrs. Eiler are the three children. — Mrs. Frances Morehead,

Eiler-Ireland

A very pretty home wedding occurred Monday evening, December 17, 1908, at the suburban residence of Mrs. Will Ireland when the eldest daughter, Miss Susie A. Ireland and Everett Eiler were joined in wedlock by Reverend F. C. Everitt of the Presbyterian church. The ceremony took place at 8:15 and at 8:30, the minister and Mrs. Everitt, the relatives and a few invited guests were served with a delicious luncheon by the bride's mother and sisters.

The room where the ceremony took place was tastefully decorated. The bride, who is one of the county's most intelligent and cultured young ladies, wore a robe of soft white silk and carried white roses, and looked as she is, one of the sweetest and most beautiful girls in Kansas. Mr. Eiler is one of Decatur county's bright, industrious farmers, a young man of sterling worth.

The Times joins the many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Eiler in good wishes for their health, happiness, and success.

This happy couple will be at home on Mr. Eiler's farm north of town, Monday, February 24.

The Lord is my shepherd, I shall not want. He maketh me to lie down in green pastures, he leadeth me beside the still waters. Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil: for thou art with me, thy rod and thy staff they comfort me. Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies, thou anointest my head with oil: my cup runneth over. volume. She is a lady of education and refinement, and numbers among her friends the best people in the county.

Mr. Beichly was a devoted member of the Lutheran Church, to the support of which he had been a liberal contributor for many years. He was a supporter of the Democratic party, whose cause he did all in his power to forward. He was well known throughout this county, where he had lived for so many years, and may well be accounted one of the earlist settlers and pioneers. He witnessed much of the phenomenal growth of the state and county, in whose development he very materially assisted.

JOSHUA P. GRIMM, proprietor of one of the leading livery stables in New Philadelphia, is one of the prosperous business men of the city and prominent in its public life. He was born here, April 22, 1839, to Solomon and Mary (Iler) Grimm. The former was a native of York County, Pa., having been born there January 11, 1809. He was about three years of age when he was brought by his father and mother to this state, the journey being made in what was then called a "prairie schooner."

John Grimm, the paternal grandfather of our subject, was the son of Swiss parents, and when ready to embark in life for himself, located on a large tract of land on Old Town Creek, which he developed into one of the best farms in the vicinity, living there until his decease. There his son Solomon was reared to man's estate, and trained to a thorough knowledge of farm pursuits. When a young man of twenty-two years the latter came to New Philadelphia and apprenticed himself to learn the trade of a blacksmith. After following this business for a time, he abandoned it to engage with the Ohio Stage Company as driver, continuing in their employ for several years. He afterward purchased a livery stable, and, owning his own horses and vehicles, ran stage coaches between New Philadelphia and Uhrichsville, also between Massillon and Millersburg. He worked these routes until the building of the railroads, when he was obliged to discontinue this slow method of travel. He still operated his livery, however, until 1888, when he retired from the active duties of life. He is now living in this city, where he is well known and highly esteemed.

The mother of our subject was born of Irish parents. She was a most estimable and worthy lady, and departed this life about fifteen years ago. She became the mother of eleven children, six of whom grew to mature years. Hannah died at four years of age; our subject was next in order of birth; then followed Rebecca, Lee H., Elmer B., Frank R. and John A. All are now deceased with the exception of our subject.

Joshua Grimm was educated in this city, first attending the public schools, and afterward studying under the tutelage of Professor Welty. He began the battle of life on his own account by working at the printer's trade. This he followed off and on for about four years, but was finally obliged to abandon that branch of work on account of being troubled with asthma. After this he was variously occupied until he enlisted in the Union army, which he did August 19, 1862, at Steubenville, becoming a member of Company K, Ninety-eighth Ohio Infantry, Colonel Webster commanding. The same day he was mustered into service at Camp Mingo, and left with his regiment on the 20th for the field of battle.

First going to Lexington, Ky., Mr. Grimm was assigned to the Tenth Brigade, Fourth Division, Fourteenth Army Corps, under General Thomas, and the first engagement in which he participated was at Perryville, Ky. After that conflict the forces moved on to Crab Orchard, and later to Lebanon, where occurred many skirmishes. In one of these encounters our subject was wounded in the hand by a musket ball, on account of which he was given a furlough and returned home, and was later honorably discharged, March 13, 1863, on account of disability.

When fully recuperated, Mr. Grimm again offered his services in defense of his country's Flag, and was mustered in May 2, 1864, in Company E, One Hundred and Sixty-first Ohio Infantry, under Col.

Dear Miss Schwartz:

I didn't think I would have space left on this page after I typed the above, but since I do, I'll write this note in answer to your query. I am sorry that I cannot be of help to you. My suggestions would include a thorough check of all data available in the courthouses of Harrison, Tuscarawas, and Guernsey counties. Birth, Death, Marriage records and Wills, also the 1850 Federal Census. Also go to those old cemeteries. Tombstone dates are sometimes weathered and difficult to read--take a soft lead pencil to trace the figures on the light colored stones, take shears to cut away grass if it hides the dates on the stones.

Go to the Historical or Genealogical libraries in any of those counties. There are some books that mention early settlers, such as: Historical Collections of Harrisc. County by Hanna, Commemorative & Biographical Record of Harrison & Carroll Counties of Ohio, by Beers, 1891; Pittis Genealogy by Margaret B. Pittis; and History of the Village of Deersville, Ohio, 1815-1952 by Homer C. Poulson.

In the Cadiz courthouse I think you can still find old maps and have copies made, that show the location of farms with family names on them. I found my Auld Family names on 3 little farms.

I was only interested in the Auld daughter who married and Iler, so I do not have early information on the Iler family. If you have any questions based on the above, feel free to write me about them. I worked on the Auld book 5 or 6 years, so don't be discouraged if you do not locate data right away.

If you know older members in the Iler family write to them. Be sure to include a stamped, self addressed envelope.

So here's wishing you joy in hunting,

Edna Teagarden
(Mrs.)

BRETHREN HERITAGE

Brethren Beliefs

In a climate of centuries of religious turmoil in Europe, and especially Germany, Martin Luther nailed his 95 thesis to the Cathedral door in 1517. What followed was a flood of reactions resulting in the Protestant Reformation. Murder, torture, persecution, and continuous "religious war" from 1600-1750. Emerging from this turmoil were the three State Churches: Roman Catholic, Lutheran, and Calvinists.

The fourth group was the Waldensians, a common people who first appeared in the 14th, 15th, and 16th centuries. During the 15th century, a group emerged from the Waldensians and lived in fear of persecution in Bohemia and Moravia. These people were known as the Moravians and were led by Count Zinzendorf in the 18th century. The Moravians later came to America and engaged in missionary work with the American Indian. They had a settlement in Gnadenhütten. Schoenbrunn, and Zoar, Ohio (in the northeastern part of the state), under the leadership of David Zeisberger.

In the 16th century, the Hutterites arose from the Anabaptist group in Moravia, Slovakia, and Transylvania. After 100 years, they fled to Russian Ukraine for religious freedom, where they lived for 100 years, then moved to America in the 1870's.

In the early 16th century, the Reverend Monsignor Menno Simons, a Catholic Priest, became disturbed by the slaughter of Protestant "heretics" and began to preach according to his conscience. Gathering quite a group, they broke from Rome in 1535 and sought exile. They became known as Mennonites.

In 1793, at Markirch (St. Marie-aux Mines), Minister Jacob Amann caused a division in Mennonites. Those who followed Amann were called the "Amish Mennonites" after him. They resided in Waldeck, Germany. Mennonites were constantly looking for a tolerant sovereign who would permit unrestricted practice of their religion. They remained devoted to their faith, even when the authorities demanded otherwise. Their reputation as excellent farmers served as a real benefit since noble and ecclesiastical landlords preferred them as conductors (lease managers) for their estates.

As early as 1652, a Baron Von Venningen, as an agent for the Kraichgau Knighthood, came to Upper Alsace to enlist conductors among the Anabaptists who had fled from Switzerland. These deserted Anabaptist estates had been depopulated during the Thirty Year War. The Prince Bishop of Basel and the Counts of Moempelgard (Montbéliard) welcomed Swiss Anabaptists within their territories, where Mennonite congregations remain today.

The Elector of the Palatinate also cooperated with Mennonites, granting them certain freedoms under the Concession of 1664. However, this war retracted by his successor. The reluctant governments accepted religious outsiders because their territories needed people to rebuild the war-torn villages.

When Alsace became part of France, the Zweibrücken Counts Palatine, owners of the County of Rappolstein, had come under the sovereignty of the "most Christian" King, Louis XIV of France, who around 1712 decreed the expulsion of the Anabaptists. Christian III from Zweibrücken-Birkenfeld was serving as officer, even though he did not agree with them. Special treatment was still shown to the Mennonite tenants of the Zweibrücken-Wittelsbach family at that time, and it continued for generations.

Some of the 18th century noble families also showed affection toward the Mennonites, as well as other religious outsiders, because of their own human and moral attitudes and granted asylum to them. One such example concerns the Counts of Sayn-Wittgenstein, in whose small territory at the southern edge of the Rothaargebirge in the 18th century numerous religious refugees (among them Amish-Mennonites) sought asylum. The Wittgenstein dynasty was united in marriage by two French great-granddaughters of the nobleman Pierre de la Place. He had been killed in the bloody St. Bartholomew's Traditionally, they felt attached to Huguenots, but also granted asylum to other religious, persecuted people, including the Amish-Mennonites.

Another reason for the Mennonites settlement in the area of Wittgenstein, Germany, was Count of Sayn-Wittgenstein, Count Ludwig, who invited the popular reformed theologian Caspar Olevianus to his court. Count Ludwig had also studied with Kuther at Erfurt University. One of Count Ludwig's successors, Count Casimir, while ruling at Berlebeurg from 1712 to 1741, also studied at Halle University, where he met August Hermann Francke, the originator of the Halle Orphan Homes and co-founder of Pietism under Philip Jacob Spener. He eagerly followed these social and humane ideas. His mother, the Countess widow Sophy, nee Zur Lippe-Brake, who had led the government for her minor son, invited Lord Hochmann von Hohenau to work for her. He, consequently, had a large influence on the young Count Casimir. Lord Hochmann was one of the most important personalities of Pietism. He was known to have associated with the Mennonites "Kurpfalz" and thought much like the Mennonites concerning baptism.

The Countess' brother and guardian of her children considered this "secretarian's" influence quite detrimental and demanded that he leave. When the Countess refused to cooperate, peaceful Hochmann was imprisoned and later banished. years later, he returned to Berleburg, where he died in 1721. Gerhard Tersteegen, the Protestant hymn writer, visited his tomb and dedicated a poem to him.

Amann's Amish Mennonites, at about the close of the 17th century, urged a much stricter obedience to the rules and regulations originally adopted. Some of the membership had become indifferent to the matter of washing feet, avoidance of those excommunicated, and had a tendency to adopt an occasional new idea for convenience, which were termed too worldly. Therefore, today we have the Amish and the Mennonites; and we have them in America in considerable numbers and many communities.

These people are ⁴quite prominent in Lancaster County, Pennsylvania. The "Big Valley" of Mifflin County, Pennsylvania, is also a strong settlement area. A few came to America before William Penn; but the first members of them were families who settled in what is now Germantown, Pennsylvania, in 1683, coming here from Crefeld, Germany.

The first known Mennonite meeting house in America was built in Germantown in 1708. From birth to death, their lives are ordered by "ritual" to methods which others think unnecessary, or even foolish. But these people do it - and like it - and prefer it to anything the rest of the Protestant world has to offer - avoiding everything outside their own circle, as they would a plague. They are a group which seems to hold their own in a world where around them there is much strife and discord; while amongst them there is peace, pleasure, and plenty. The earliest Amish Congregation in the United States was established along North Kill Creek, Berks County, Pennsylvania in 1735. The Indians subsequently crowded then southward, where today they are firmly rooted.

In 1708, in the Village of Schwarzenau, in the province of Wittgenstein in Hesse-Cassel, Germany, eight souls met on the Eder River. In Donald F. Dumbaugh's book, European Origins of the Brethren, the separatist John Christopher Edelmann describes the Schwarzenau Valley: "It lies one-and-one half hours from Berelburg in a pleasant valley, surrounded by delightful hills and forests, through which runs the Eder River and other cool brooks...they must have lived as if in a cloister in this solitude because there were only the manor and a few small houses to be seen...For people who loved solitude, it was most delightful to live there."

After much study and taking God and their Bible as their guide, these eight souls were baptized by trine immersion and chose Alexander Mack as their leader. Alexander Mack was born in 1679 at Schriesheim and der Bergstrasse of Presbyterian (Reformed) faith, and he died February 19th, 1735. When he came to America, Alexander Mack was accompanied by his wife, Anna Margaretha, and three sons, John Valentine, Johannes, and Alexander. Two young daughters, Christina and Anna Maria had died in Europe. Like all Anabaptists, the Brethren were weary of war, persecution, torture (the rack, the screw, the dungeon), and harassment. So they came to America in two groups. In 1719, twenty Brethren families emigrated under the leadership of Peter Becker, a minister from the Crefeld congregation. They came in 1729. Alexander Mack, as leader of about thirty Brethren families, sailed from Rotterdam, Holland, in the ship Allen, on July 7th; "and after a tempestuous and perilous voyage of 71 days," they landed at Philadelphia on September 15th, 1729.

Nearly everything the Brethren held as belief was directed toward an action or practice. Being a member of the Fraternity meant not only believing the truth as the New Testament revealed it, but living it directly. Their convictions were an element of a lifestyle which the Brethren believed Christ called for. They ruled the members' practical relations with each other, with the civil government, and with the secular society. Their practiced showed their applications as derived directly from the New Testament. H.R. Holsinger, who was forced to leave the church in 1882, looked back on the Brethren in 1901 and wrote: "In the first place, what they believe and teach may be comprehended in the statement that they accept the New Testament as their creed and discipline. That is, the New Testament as it is, and not as they would have it, or as they understand it, but as it reads. They believe that the Book is inspired by God, has been preserved by His almighty power, and translated into various languages through his direct instrumentality; that the Book means what it says, and says what it means, nothing more and nothing less, and is not to be added to nor taken from, and will suffer no deviations. That is Tunkerism, briefly but accurately stated." The Brethren were more concerned with the duty if the church to ascertain from the New Testament how the Christian should live and how the church should be than to do so and to be so. Uniformity in practice tended to produce consensus on doctrine.

Peter Nead wrote in 1834: "I have stated that it is the duty of the believer to unite himself to that church which has no other rule for her government but the New Testament, not in word only, but in deed; for there are many who say they have no other rule but the New Testament, and yet do not keep house in the church agreeably to that blessed book..."

After having said that the New Testament was at the heart of the matter and Jesus Christ the focus of faith, the Brethren had much that was important and nothing that was dominant. This was one of their virtues, for they had nothing out of which to create a fanatical religion.

Notes for Winfield Scott Pottle:
GOD FORGIVE THEM, I CAN'T!

By: John D. Feagin, Sr.

One of the horrendous aspects of the Civil War was the deprivation of prisoners in both the northern and southern prisoners of war camps. Prisoners on both sides suffered inconceivable misery. one of the worst camps was Andersonville Prison in Georgia. It was overcrowded with only one source of water, a dank stream running through the center of the compound. A wall composed of logs cut from the nearby forest surrounded the prison grounds. A deadline surrounded the interior of the prison. If a prisoner crossed the deadline the Rebel guards were under orders to shoot. Prisoners died by the hundreds of disease, malnutrition, and thirst. On a hot August the 13th day in 1864, a sudden storm appeared and by some accounts, a lightning bolt came from the dark clouds and struck the earth. A spring of water came gushing from the ground. The thirsty men rushed to what became known as the "Providential Spring." Some men were pushed over the deadline and shot.

After the war was over, some of the northern prisoners were sent home via steamship. One of these steamers was the aging Sultana. The Sultana was extremely overcrowded with over 2000 prisoners on board. Just above Memphis Tennessee, the Sultana's boilers suddenly exploded, creating an inferno of steam and fire. Many prisoners died instantly. Some of the prisoners were sent flying into the Mississippi River where they drowned. The loss of life was well over a thousand and is thought to have been greater than the lives lost during the sinking of the Titanic.

A reporter who was sent to the National Military Home in January of 1906 interviewed one individual that experienced these tragedies and lived to tell about it.

The young reporter from the Dayton Daily News stood in the midst of the venerable old warriors at the Soldiers home and gazed around, looking for a likely individual to interview. Something drew his attention to the old man sitting in the corner. The man with the long gray hair flecked with occasional strands of black. The old man appeared to be in a contemplative mood as he often did. He, like others, remembering the past that haunted them on a daily basis. The reporter could not help but notice the ugly white scar that ran from the top of the old mans forehead all the way past his left eyebrow and down to his cheek. An old war wound the reporter surmised. The reporter had picked his candidate. What follows is the story of Private Winfield Scott Pottle, Company G, Ohio 54th Volunteer Infantry. It is a story of an American tragedy, and it is a story of one American's triumph over monumental odds.

"All of us didn't go out at the same time," said Scott Pottle. "My brother Wallace and I enlisted in 161 in the 54th Ohio Infantry, which was called Platt's Zouaves. Wallace was 20 years old and I 16. My mother died before the war. My youngest brother, Ves, only a kid 13 years old, was crazy to get to the war and my father knew he would run away, so he decided to enlist himself and take Ves with him. They joined the 94th Ohio in 162. Ves went along as a drummer boy, but he carried a gun in Sherman's march to the sea. He got along all right too, and was the only one of us not wounded. My father was wounded at the Battle of Stone River, and invalided home."

"The company Wallace and I belonged to was made up almost entirely on Xenia boys. We had a pretty warm time of it at the battle of Shiloh. You can read all about that in the histories. Wallace was shot in the right breast and left hand in that fight, and they sent him to the hospital and then discharged him for disability. Consumption set in a few years later and he died 10 years after the war.

"Somehow or other my name was published in the reports of the battle as being one of the dead. A committee was appointed in Xenia to go south and look after the boys of our company, which had been pretty well shot up. My father was one of the committee, and he brought along a coffin to take my body home in. We were in camp at Shewall, Tenn., when the committee came along. I can't recollect just what he said when he saw how live I was, but it's natural to suppose that he was somewhat surprised."

"When Sherman started out to reinforce Rosecrans, I was one of the detail men. A party of Forest's Cavalry attacked us along the road, trying to take Sherman. We put out a line to protect the wagon train and give Sherman a chance to get back. Forest charged and some Johnny Reb socked me on the head and arm with a saber. See this scar on my arm, and this dent in my head? That's where they came from. They took 206 of us prisoners that time. The Rebs had me penned up for 18 months. First I was put at Belle Island with a big batch of corralled Yankees. Then all but 100 men were sent away. General Ben Butler had threatened to kill 100 Rebels and I was one of the 100 Yankees kept back to be slaughtered if Butler carried out his plan. Ticklish business that! Luckily for us Butler changed his mind and we were sent on to Libby. Then we didn't know whether we were lucky or not. That was a fierce note. It was so crowded a man couldn't straighten out. They kept me in Libby only three weeks, and Andersonville was our next hotel. The only improvement was that it was not so crowded. Our food was rank, the water warm and horrible. One day after a thunderstorm, a spring of clear water broke out between the stockade and the dead line. There was a great rush for the water, and I was among the bunch pushed over the line. The Rebel guards opened fire and I got a bullet in my side. And there we lay, our comrades couldn't help us, they dared not cross the dead line. We lay about an hour when the Captain of the Guard ordered us removed. For awhile there was more of our blood in that spring than water."

"Finally the time came for us to go north. Twenty-two hundred of us Yanks were put on the steamer Sultana. I slept under the same blanket with George White, in the back part of the boat. Just above Memphis about 3 o'clock in the morning, there was a terrific explosion. I was in the water before I knew what was going on. I grabbed onto a plank and by queer coincidence, George White, my blanket mate, got hold of the same plank. We got out of the crowd of struggling men and hollered for help. A fisherman came along and took us ashore. Fifteen hundred poor devils lost their lives in that disaster."

"While I was in the hospital in Memphis, I saw my name in the newspaper as one of the drowned. I guess I'm the only survivor of that affair in this county now." Thus ended the interview.

In his application for a pension, Winfield Scott Pottle gives an even more graphic description of his experiences in prison and undoubtedly that of thousands of other prisoners when he writes:

... "In my dreams I go through all of the horrors of starving to death and awaiting to be shot and awake with parched tongue, that awful pain in my head - bloodshot eyes and my heart nearly jumping out of me - that I don't believe in Doctors and therefore don't go to them often. I hope and pray that you will take into consideration that I have went through all the horrors of the Rebel Prisons from October 11th 1863 until March 1865, also the horrors of being drowned being a survivor of that terrible disaster the blowing up of that ill fated steamer Sultana. Hoping and praying that you will consider all of this will be with what great lots of evidence I now have in will be sufficient to give me a proper rating or a proper allowance of my pension. Often times I see with my eyes open and see myself so weak from hunger, crawling around crying for water and something to eat - God forgive them, I can't."

Winfield Scott Pottle received his pension of $17.00 per month for the last time on March 4, 1908. He fought his last battle and departed this life for a better one on April 18, 1908.

Notes for Elsie Berniese Pottle:

Grandma Ibach was a fiery person. She was extremely strong willed. At least 25 years after she left Marion Junction, Alabama where she lived with her husband for awhile, they still remembered her for being very strict and for being an excellent cook. 46766

She was forced to take care of her father who was pretty much and invalid for many years. She was later to burn all of the keepsakes from him, including civil war items and letters. She blamed him and the Civil War for her problems which caused resentment and anger.

She loved birds and would whistle to them and they would call back. She was a Jehovah's Witness and did not really believe in doctors. She would go to one if she had to. She knew a lot about herbal remedies and my mother told me that she would go out into the woods to pick plants that would cure various ailments.

In her later years, she lived with her daughter which she resented. She did not like being dependent on anyone. She had bouts with cancer which finally killed her. I have several letters that she wrote which mention me by name. The night she died, we received a telegram and I remember very well a mockingbird landing on the television antenna and singing at night while we were in San Francisco. Grandma loved to whistle to the Mockingbirds.

Medical Information: Had cancer of ovaries and breast.

Notes for William Hickly Ibach:

William Ibach was a Jack-of-all-trades. He was a carpenter, mason, mechanic, and good at all things. He was an excellent father to his children and was well liked by all. He didn't care much about worldly possessions. What he had, he shared with others. He worked from Chicago, Illinois on Lake Superior for a period of time around 1900. He worked on the barges that were used to transfer goods and coal. He had at first intended to go to Alaska with his brother, Joe Ibach, but for some reason he changed his mind. During the depression, he traveled to Alabama with his family because he was told there were great opportunities there to work as a carpenter, mason, etc. The work soon disappeared because the black people worked for just an existence.

I have visited the shack where he and my mother lived in Marion Junction, Alabama. To call it a house is to give it too much credit. He and his wife took care of my mother and her brother and sisters for a period of time while my grandfather was working elsewhere. My mother often told me that her last memory of him was him sitting on a log crying as she left to return to Buffalo, New York. He apparently died of an enlarged heart. Some family members say it was because of a broken heart, others say it was because of moonshine. I prefer to think the former reason. He is buried in Selma, Alabama.

His wife, Elsie, returned to New York and never remarried.

Children of Elsie Pottle and William Ibach are:

- 108 i. Charles Winfield^{8,9} Ibach, born 27 March 1900 in Chicago, Illinois; died 08 February 1991 in North Evans, Erie County, New York. He married (1) Lillian Elizabeth Maltbie^{8,9} 15 December 1920 in Buffalo, Erie County, New York. He married (2) Mary R. Herlan Abt. 1940 in North Evans, Erie County, New York.

Notes for Charles Winfield Ibach:

My grandfather was a man of great intelligence. He was born in Chicago, Illinois in 1900. When a child, he lived in Dayton, Ohio down the street from Orville and Wilbur Wright who invented the airplane. He used to go play on some of their contraptions for testing the airplane and be chased off by the Wright brothers. His mother was strict, while his father was fairly gentle. My grandfather always spoke highly of his parents. His grandfather was Isidor (Charles) E. Ibach, who immigrated with his father and a few brothers from Leiberstung, Germany right after the German Revolution of 1848.

My grandfather met and married Lillian E. Maltbie/Maltby in 1921. She was pregnant with David Ibach at the time of marriage. This was always held against him by the Maltbie family members and he was never accepted. They had five children: David, Mary (my mother), Gertrude, Vera, and Shirley. After Lillian died in 1928, their house burned down. I still have Lillian's bible and a lock of her hair that is singed by the fire that my grandfather was able to save. 46772 46773 46774 46775 46776

During World War I, he served for a short time but had to be discharged because he was under age. He worked for Curtis-Wright and the "Service Legion" during the beginning of World War II. He spent time in Egypt and elsewhere as an aircraft mechanic. Apparently he spied on German aircraft. He received a pension for the remainder of his life.

My grandfather was a "Jack of all trades", he could do anything. He worked as a mechanic, gardener, nursery owner, and was certified to work on air conditioning and refrigeration units.

He loved to garden and to experiment with flowers by using selective pollination. He was able to come up with a blue Queen Anne's Lace flower. He also loved birds.

He was not a religious man in the traditional sense. He joined the Catholic Church after marrying his second wife. He believed in the "magnetic power of life and love for all things".

He was very proud of his German heritage. He told me in a letter that his grandfather came to America from Germany via New York.

Notes for Lillian Elizabeth Maltbie:

Lillian Maltbie was born (according to her birth certificate) Lillie Elizabeth Maltbie. She was born at home at 437 Nogden Street in Buffalo, NY. Her father, Julius was a street car inspector at the time of her birth. According to her marriage certificate, she gave her name as Lillian Josephine Maltbie. She was generally known as Lillian or 'Lil'.

She attended school with her brother at school 43, room 29, on Lovejoy Street in Buffalo. Her brother Julius, was two years younger than her. In those days, they began school at age 3. When she was 9, her parents moved to a farm in Derby, New York, where she grew up. She had many friends, one of her favorites being Mary Leach. She also knew the McNultys who were a wealthy family living on the Lakeshore. She attended the 1st Congregational Church in North Evans. She met and married (after some family controversy - she was pregnant) - Charles Winfield Ibach. They were married around the 15th of December in 1920 by Rev. Robert G. Leetcha. At the time, my grandfather, Charles was a motor assembler by trade. The witnesses to the marriage were Julius Maltbie and Frances A. Ibach.

Her first child was David, born in May of 1921. My mother, Mary was born in September of 1922. Three other children followed. Her married life was evidently a stressful one due to being constantly pregnant and taking care of little ones. She would panic whenever one of her children was hurt. She owned a Camel hair coat (all the rage in those days) of which she was very proud. She was very sentimental, keeping a pressed wedding rose in her bible which I still have. She used to spend hours with David, talking of the beauty of nature. She was a gentle person.

Fires were a constant hazard in those days, and a poignant memory of my mother is watching her mother cry as a house burned to the ground across the street. She was afraid her husband would be hurt fighting it.

My grandmother was a gentle woman who loved her children. She kept a diary of their first words and other special events in their lives. She was pregnant with my Uncle David Ibach when she was married. For this reason, Charles Ibach was always disliked by the Maltby/Maltbie family. I have a lock of her hair which was reddish brown in color. She had brown eyes like my mother, Mary Ibach. She had one child after another. During her sixth pregnancy, she fell down and had a miscarriage. People in the Maltbie family suggested that she was forced to have an abortion. My grandfather swore to me that he had no reason to lie and that she died from a fall. I believe him.

She was taken to the hospital in Buffalo, New York where she developed an infection and pneumonia. Antibiotics such as penicillin were not available in the 1920's. She asked all of the children and her husband to come and see her one last time. She spoke her final words to her husband "Charlie, keep them together". She then died at age 28. My mother was completely crushed seeing her mother all dressed in pink laying in a coffin. She was buried with a container containing momentos of some sort. My mother never got over that pain of her mother's death and she seemed to be "frozen" emotionally at the age she was when this happened. My grandfather kept the children together as she requested. Their life with their step-mother was full of pain and suffering, although my mother reconciled with "Big Mary" later in life.

My grandmother is buried at The First Congregational Church of North Evans known as "Jerusalem Corners" in North Evans, New York. My mother's ashes (Mary Elizabeth Ibach) are buried with her in her grave. I took them there myself. It was after making this trip that I was involved in a serious automobile accident.

I have in my possession several pictures of her and her Bible.

Thomas

Not much luck in finding your 2g-gm Clarissa Iler in my files. I do have several Clarissa Iler's in my records but not in the right locale at the right time.

Finding her parents also is also slim pickings though I do find a John Iler who showed up on the 1810 census in Botetourt Co, VA with 3 sons and 3 daughters. I know nothing more about him or his family than just that.

I would certainly like to help you and in the process learn more your Iler ancestry. Sorry I can't do better.

Hi!

I had the same problem until someone told me to get a certain program to check the names in a GEDCOM. I did and since that day, it is a picnic.

I'm posting this to the group because I do not think alot of people are aware of this particular program. You can use GedSplit to split up your gedcom.

Here is the url for it:

<http://www.rootsweb.com/~gumby/ged.html>

It is freeware. There are other programs on that site as well.
